

Job Title: Dance Teacher (Subcontractor)

Location: Wayne Center for the Arts: School of Dance, Wooster, OH

Position Type: Hourly Subcontractor

Compensation: Contract rate negotiated based on experience, with the potential for growth..

Job Description:

We are seeking a highly skilled and passionate Dance Teacher to join our team. As a subcontractor, you will be responsible for teaching dance classes to students of various ages and skill levels. This is an exciting opportunity for a professional-level dancer or a current dance college student to share their expertise and grow within a supportive, dynamic environment. This position offers the potential for growth in the future.

Responsibilities:

- Teach dance classes in various styles (e.g., ballet, jazz, hip-hop, contemporary, etc.) to students ranging from beginner to advanced levels.
- Develop and implement lesson plans tailored to the specific needs and goals of your students.
- Maintain a positive, engaging, and disciplined classroom environment that fosters growth and creativity.
- Offer constructive feedback to students, helping them refine their technique and artistry.
- Participate in studio performances and recitals.
- Communicate with parents and staff about student progress, challenges, and successes.

Qualifications:

- A professional-level background in dance (must have a dance degree, be a current dance college student, or have graduated from a pre-professional program).
- Semi-professional or professional-level training or performance experience in at least one dance style (additional styles a plus).
- Proven ability to teach students of varying ages and skill levels.
- Strong communication skills, with a passion for mentoring and inspiring young dancers.
- Reliable, punctual, and able to work independently.
- CPR/First Aid certification (or willingness to obtain).
- A collaborative and positive attitude.

Compensation & Growth Opportunities:

- Competitive hourly pay based on experience.
- Potential for expanded teaching opportunities as the studio grows.
- Flexible schedule to accommodate personal commitments.
- Supportive environment with room for professional growth and development.

If you're passionate about sharing your professional dance expertise with the next generation of dancers, we'd love to hear from you! Please send your resume and a cover letter outlining your dance training and teaching philosophy to:
